PREFACE

The text in this volume covers a period of consolidation ; the Toleration Act of 1689 enabled Meeting Houses to be built and licensed, so business concerning real property begins to appear in Monthly Meeting Minutes. Preoccupation with discipline, leading to the appointment of Overseers who were required to report formally ; structural elaboration as in the establishment of Preparative Meetings ; meticulous recording of names of Representatives, to Monthly and Quarterly Meetings, and of those appointed to inquire into the "clearness" of the parties to a marriage ; are all indicative of congelation from a movement into an organisation.

Severe persecution having ceased, except for isolated cases such as the one in the appendix to this volume, Quakers were no longer being bled financially, so cases requiring relief might have been expected to decline, but since they did not, the inference is that the benefits were attracting adherents whose circumstances rendered them likely to require such assistance. Suspicion of this lingered a long time, as shown in the report of the Friends appointed to interview a husband and wife "who jointly expressed a desire to be joined in Membership with us, declaring themselves free from any interested views, as to the outward".¹ Probably, an analysis of the occupations of Friends would show a higher proportion belonging to the labouring classes in the 18th than in the 17th centuries. It is hoped to include in the Appendix to Volume 3, sufficient Biographical details to facilitate identification of the principal persons mentioned in the text.

Monthly Meeting began to control the activities of those numerous volunteers for the itinerant Ministry who replaced the original leaders, most of whom died during this period. Such deaths emphasised the desirability of putting on record first-hand accounts of the dynamic period before it was too late and the inquiries (pp. 164, 167-9) for the materials of a "General History" of the introduction of Quakerism were directed to Quarterly Meetings and such accounts as are extant have been published.² Unfortunately, the Lincolnshire return is missing, so an attempt will be made to present the evidence now available, relating to the compass of Gainsborough Monthly Meeting, for the period before the minutes begin, in the appendix to Volume 3.

The references to George Fox's writings (pp. 16-7) are in connexion with the Manuscript at Friends' House, London, entitled "The Informe at the least two of the most moderate Justices of the Peace of the County (Quorumunus) that you are presented & convicted upon the statute of 23 and 29 of Elizabeth and the 3d of King James against papistry which inflicteth £20 upon every papist absenting himselfe from his parish Church by the space of one month. Then acquaint those Justices that you are willing to take the test contained in the Act of Parliament made the 30th of this Kings reigne, that thereby it may appear you are no popish recusant and desire them to certify the King of your soe doing. If the Justices question their authority in this behalfe, as if they were not concernd to take cognisance of thy takeing the test, or to certify the King thereon then you may show them the Act of Parliament and also the order lately obtained out of the Exchequer for the discharge of 13 Friends in Cambridgeshire, whereby it doth appear that those Friends did take the test in Cambridge last Lent Assizes, before the Lord Chiefe Baron Mountague, then Judge of the Assize who certified the King thereof upon which certificate the King ordered their discharge, & they are now dischargd accordingly, as appears by the said order. You may further informe the said Justices, that on the 17th of November last

John Odlin being still from home & the consideration of his affaires comeing before Freinds of this Meeting, they have drawn up a paper of advice which is to be recorded, & ordered to be sent to him.

Here followes a true copy which was sent to John Odlin & his wife & delivered by the hande of Thomas Markham.

To Freinds John Odlin & Sarah,

Wee being this day met together in the fear of God in relation to the affaires of Truth, & haveing under our consideration your present condition & being informed by Friends of Brigg Meeting, that you have seaverall times been both spoken & written too by them, & alsoe seaverall times sent too by order of this Monthly Meeting, advising you to regulate what hath been amiss both in yourselves & family, & alsoe to take some speedy care to satisfy what just debts are upon you according to your abillity, that Truth & Freinds may not be reproached, nor yourselves cut off from the body as a branch fruitless.

Therefore wee have upon weighty considerations come to this result once more to advise you to take a true account of what you owe & to whome, & to take a speedy course to get in what is oweing to you, and forthwith expose to saile all your estate that is in your possession then offer to all your creditors what composition your estate will make to them, & if they agree thereto, to distribute it amongst them proportionably, that soe the clamour of your creditors may be stopped, your conscience discharged, Truth & Friends cleared as much as in you lye & you put into a capacity to earn bread for the sustenance of your selves & family, that both you & they perish not together.

But if you will still regard no councill neither adhere to our sober advice but put off & make delayes as heretofore you have done we hereby signify to you that we shall be nessessitated to disown you by giveing out a Testimony against you for the clearing of the Truth which we make profession of, & that the world may know you have been faithfully warned.

Note alsoe that above 6 months agoe a paper of wholesome advice & councill was given him, but he like an unworthy man comited it imeadiately to the flames, a copy of which may be seen at Edward Gilliats remaining as a Testimony against him.

Nickholas Wilkinson,

Whereas Thomas Markham & Robert Colyer with some others have divers times spoken to thee about thy disorderly walking in seaverall respects, and instead of amendment thou hast rather grown worse, to the reproach of Truth & greife of honest harted Friends. Therefore complaint was made against thee at our last Monthly Meeting, & they ordered Thomas Markham & Robert Colyer to speak to thee & desire thy appearance at this Meeting to answer to such thing as Friends have to charge thee withall, but wee understand thy answer was to them thou did not intend to appear as thou hast manifested it this day, whereby thou shuns the oppertunity of clearing thy self or comeing under condemnation if thou be found guilty. Therefore wee doe once more in love to thy soule, & for clearing of the blessed Truth of which wee make profession & for discharge of our consciences to the same, desire thy appearance at our next Monthly Meeting to give Friends such satisfaction as they & the Truth requires in such cases, otherwise wee doe signify by these few lines that wee shall be constrained then & there to give forth a Testimony against thee & let the world know our christian indeevours have not been a wanting towards thee.

The next Monthly Meeting to be att Brigg.

To all people to whome this writeing shall come know yee that Nicholas Wilkinson, cordwiner of Glamford Briggs haveing been convinced of the blessed Truth, and hath had conversation with us the people of God in scorn called Quakers for some years by past but haveing been unfaithfull to the Lord and that blessed principle of divine grace which the Lord in mercy bestowed on him, & which we doue make proffession of, have turned aside out of the right way & walked disorderly to the shame of religeon the dishonour of God his Truth and people, And whereas divers Freinds whose spiritts have been greived for those things have sought his return for a long time, & in there godly care for the Truth sake, and his everlasting welfair have often spoaken to him, and when that would take noe effect, his condition was laid before the Monthly Meetings, and Freinds from thence ordred to speak to him, alsoe to advise him to come to the Monthly Meeting to receive the advice of Freinds in the Truth, which he did accordingly and seemed to hearken to there counsell and promised amendment, but instead of a reformation he is grown worse, his conversation more debauched then before, not only in running from one woman to another under pretence of marryage but in frequenting the company of loose weomen, that his name is become a reproach, besides his running into debt, and taking noe care to pay what he owes, to the injury of many, and to the great damage of those that are not able to give him credit, and other ungodly practices as lyeing for which he is soe notorious, that his word in any case cannot be taken, all which are against the Truth we proffess, which leads to injure noe man ther fore we doe testifie & declare to all the world that we have noe fellow shippe with him.

Next Monthly Meeting ordered to be at Thornholme at Francis Dents.

At a Monthly Meeting held at Francis Dents in Thornholme the 8th of the 8th month 1703¹ :—

Thomas Wresle gave an account to this Meeting that he had spoke to Samuel Richardson & his wife & found things in a little better frame than formerly, which has given some satisfaction to this Meeting yet Friends still desire Thomas Wresle to have a watchfull eye over him for good & advise him as the Lord may open his heart towards him, & that David Crosby allso would discharge himself in what he feels in the love of God towards him & give an account to the next Monthly Meeting.

Noe satisfaction being given to this Meeting about the difference between Thomas Morley & Joshua Reeder Friends desire that Thomas Hutchinson & Robert Vessey with David Crosby speak to them (p. 253) to make a speedy end thereto & also to desire Joshua & his wife to appear at our next Monthly Meeting to answer to such matters & things as Friends have to charge him withal.

This Meeting still desireth Thomas Hutchinson & Robert Vessey to speak to John Clark about his disorder & get his answer & bring it up to our next Monthly Meeting.

This Meeting still desires Peter Naylor & David Crosby to speak to John Wresle about his miscarriages in drinking & other things which has brought a great greif & trouble upon Friends & bring an account thereof to the next Monthly Meeting.

This Meeting having had a long debate about the Overseers in each Meeting as also the good advice that is recomended by such to be observed, it is agreed, that the minutes be drawn up out of the paper then received, by Brigg Friends & that Thomas Wresle & David Crosby attend that service the night before the Monthly Meeting where they are to be brought.

Friends are desired to bring an account of their suffering for tithe against next Monthly Meeting.

Next Monthly Meeting ordered to be at Brigge.

At a Monthly Meeting held at Brigge the 10th of 9th month 1703¹ :—

David Crosby gave account that he visited Samuel Richardson & found him in a somewhat hopefull or tender frame it's desired that he & Thomas Wresle continue to visit & deale with him as they find it upon them & give an account to the next Monthly Meeting,

David Crosby having visited Joshua Reeder & his wife & it appearing that things are much out of order with him its desired that David Crosby with Robert Vessey do goe to them again to make perticular enquiry & give an account to the next Monthly Meeting.

Thomas Morley acquainted Friends in this Meeting that Thomas Hutchinson has spoken to John Clark, as Friends desired, but could get little answer from him but David Crosby having something in his mind to give him a visit with Robert Vessey they are desired to deal plainly & faithfully with him & get his appearance or bring his answer to our next Monthly Meeting.

David Crosby signified to Friends in this Meeting that he had spoken to John Wressle about his evil conversation & that he seemed to be sorry for it & promised amendment for the future as he has formerly done, But Friends are desired to take notice & see if he perform his promiss & give an account thereof at the next Monthly Meeting or else if he continue in his evil & wicked practices Friends will find a necessity to give forth a Testimony against him.

A copy of John Urry, junior, his Letter of Condemnation.

Dear Friends,

I am really sorry that I have given soe just an occation of offence, both to the Truth & Friends, as I have done in my disorderly proceedings in marriage ; & that which adds weight to my exercise herein is, that I did not doe it for want of understanding ; but want of a due & early care, & watchfullness ; for which I doe feell I am judged & condemned in my self : Therefore doe I the more freely offer this as a Testimony against my soe untruthlike practices ; esteeming all but too little to make satisfaction to the Truth for that I have unwarrantably done : And withall can doe no less than acknowledge your love & tenderness towards me ; still desiring your prayers for my restoration againe ; that if happily it may please the Lord that I may find peace with him : And that we may all of us be in unity & fellowship one with another ; is the earnest desire of him ; who once was, and still desires to be your Friend in the Truth.

John Urry, junior.

ATT a Monthly Meeting held at the Meeting House at Brigg the 9th of the 9th month 1704² :—

To Friends of Gainsbrough Meetinge the 13 of the 5th month 1705¹ & to others whome it may concern.

These may let you know that I am very sorry that I have been soe far prevaild upon, by the enemy of my soules peace to be drawn to take a woeman which was not of our society (p. 277) to wife, & marry her with an hireling preist contrary to the practice of the primitive Christians who was carefull not to joyn themselves in that relation with unbeleivers, neither can it be found in all scriptures, that any man whatsoever was authorised by God or Christ Jesus to joyne people together in marriage & haveing found trouble of conscience for my outrunings and takeing such undew liberty as aforesaid to the dishonour of Truth & trouble & sorrow to the professors of it I doe hereby condemn that & all other practices & things in which I have been found that are inconsistent with the spotless Truth & judge that spirit that led me into the evill, takeing the shame wholly to my self & desires the prayers of the faithfull for my recovery, & return to the stock of the Lords companions, from whome I have strayed for want of takeing heed to the light of Christ Jesus.

William Parkinson,

A cobby of Samuel Richardson paper of condemnation.

To all people to whome this writeing shall come.

Know yee that whereas Samuel Richardson of Winteringham haveing been convinced of the blessed truth, which we the people of God in scorn cald Quakers make proffession of, but not takeing heed to the grace of God in his own hart, which teacheth to live soberly, righteously & godly in this world, hath been led away, by the temptations of the wicked one the Devill & Sathan into viz. drunkenness which is the root of many evills, being debauched in his conversation & beating his wife from time to time, for which we have dealt with him reproveing & admonishing him often with long patience & forbearance, that he might be led to repentance & amendment of life, much indeavours have been used to reclaime him out of evill, all which hath hitherto been in vaine, he continuing in that gross sin of drunkenness & many other evills. Therefore we finde a nessesity upon us for the Lords sake his Truth and people, who make proffession of his holy name to clear ourselves of him & the blessed Truth, that we

p. 302.

John Wresles letter to the Monthly Meeting for Friends satisfaction, wherein he condemns himself for his evill course of life for the clearing of Truth & Freinds.

Loving Freinds,

After my kind love to you, I have here sent you a few lines, to clear Freinds & the Truth, as concerning me in the first place I doe acknowledge your love & kindness has been very great towards mee and your long forbearance wating for my retorn but I have not answered your kindness towards mee; but has given the Lord just occasion of late to withdraw his love from mee therefore in a few words, I have nothing against Friends at all but the falt is in my self likewise I must own it has been this wicked sin of drunkenness that has been my ruin and distruction all a long and allways was the occasion of my disorder in any kinde and likewise must owne the great good will of the Lord has had towards mee for in steade of judgement he has showed mercy many a time and in divers manners for his striving has been long with me whereby he might have cut me of in the hight of my transgression and still been just and true likewise he has many times laide my condition very plane before me. Likewise I have taken notis when I have kept my selfe for sometime from the wicked sin before named that I have been brought into a very good frame of minde and I have taken notis in that condittion that the grand enemy of my poor soule has lade severall temptations of divers kinds before mee and while I kept my selfe in that frame I have had strenth to resist and as it weare a feare placed before mine eyes but then after a time of falling into excess of drink againe then did I bring the temptation which before was lade even with greedyenness being lost and feare cast behind my back that afterwards I have said within my selfe to the ruing that this drink brings mee unto. Likewise I cannot ommit but one time which I cannot forget I pray you bear with me it was a time in which I did leade a very wicked & profaine life in which I did not known what course to take but after a little time I fell into worke some miles of and I was glad of it therefore I made a vow unto the Lorde that I would not drinke no strong drinke (p. 303) while I was in that place so the Lord gave me strength to perform it so that I cannot say that ever I had in my life so much peace and satisfaction as I had in that little time so I must confes it is nothing but drink that hinders all my good. One thing more has been lade to my charge which I am clear of that I should a been the occasion of some going into excess with my selfe, which was not so, but on the contrary truly dessiers that none by no meanes should take liberty by my evill example but rather take warning by me that they come not in the same condition so shall conclude and commit my selfe to him with whome I have to doe.

Here followes another of John Wresles letters of condemnation of himself to Friends at there Monthly Meeting 14th of 11 month 1708¹:—

Loving Friends, after my kind love to you I desire you once more to hear these few lines with patience. In the first place I do let you understand I have been a man inclined to drink from my very childhood & as I grew up I fell more & more in love with it, so that I would have it either by lawfull means or unlawfull which was a very sad thing so that I ran so farr that I was very near to destruction both of soul & body had not the Lord in his infinite mercy looked down upon me & plainly laid my condition before me & through the Lords mercies I have known in some measure a forsaking, likewise I think I never was unwilling to hear you at any time neither publick or private & not only so but I have made my confession in some measure before you, & this I am bold to say because I know it to be truth, that I have in a greater measure forsaken than ever I made confession, in consideration I best know how my condition has been. so that Friends do you not think that it is a very hard thing that I should be disowned by you & likewise by my relations because they know that I am under condemnation & likewise you know or at least may know that I am despised & disowned by my own family for which I give them no just occasion for so doing but can truly say I have nothing but love & goodwill towards them & can truly labour both night & day for the good of my self & them, & I am glad with all my heart that the Lord hath inclined me so to doe, & if you all say nay, I know it is through the Lord's mercy I am as I am so Friends if you doe condemn me to the world I neither can nor will justifie my self to them, so shall conclude your friend. Here follows the paper of condemnation given forth in this Meeting against John Wresle, after all the patience, labour & forbearance of Friends with & towards him.

p. 331.

To all people to whom this present writing shall come. Know ye that whereas John Wresle of Brigge having from a child been educated in the holy profession of the blessed Truth which we the people in scorn called Quakers make profession of, but he not taking heed to that blessed principle of God in his own heart, viz. the grace of God that brings salvation (according to the holy scriptures) teaching us (as the antient christians) that denying ungodlyness & worldly lusts we should live soberly righteously & godlyly in this present evil world he hath been led aside & captivated with that gross sin of drunkenness whereby he hath dishonoured the name of God & our holy profession notwithstanding we have laboured with him, reproving & admonishing him with great patience & long-suffering that if possible we might reclaim him but all our labours & endeavours have been ineffectual, save that he hath often been brought to an acknowledgement & confession of his sin owning our care & love towards him often testifieing against himself both in word & writing in much seeming tenderness, especially one writing which much clears Friends & Truth, notwithstanding he still continues in the said sinn of drunkenness to the great dishonour of God his Truth & poeple. Wherefore we have found a necessity upon us to testifie against him shewing unto the world we have no fellowship with him, nor his unfruitful works of darkness he being unto us as a heathen man untill it shall please the Lord to give him a fresh visitation & repentance not to be repented of which we earnestly pray for.
